CRETE.

New York, Feb. 19.—Dates from Cranuary 20th represent the prospect of ruelties intoly mercenaries. The New York World says:

The New York World says:

The Missouri Democrat, the Cincinnati Commercial, and other journals of lesser note, in their desire to magnify petty differences among Democrats, by which they hope the Republican party may profit, have taken to misrepresenting the opinions of the Chairman of the National Committee, Mr August Belmont, and the action of the Committee itself.

Mr. Belmont they describe as a heavy bondholder, whom Mr. Pendleton's greenback view of the government's indebtedness affrights. Doubtless Mr. Belmont is a bondholder, as Mr. Pendleton himself is said to be, giving therefore a considerable pecuniary pledge of the sincerity of his opinions. But Mr. Belmont, we regret to say, is of Mr. Pendleton's opinion in regard to the payment of the principal of the five-twenties in greenbacks, though differering from that statesman as to the importance of it as a practical question now, or for some years to come.

The statement of the Missouri Democrat that "Belmont and other Eastern Democrass lost pretty heavily in robel bonds" is a scurrilous stander. The correspondence which we published vesterday between Mr. Belmont and the Treasurer of Pennsylvania, and the history of Governor Seymour's administration in the State, show that what loses Eastern Democrats have had, have been inflicted upon them as the holders of the bonds of Northern States, by the "trooly loil" party founded on the "great moral idea"
of Cheat, both in Constitutions and conraces.
